JONES ACT ON SHIPPING IS ANNULED BY WILSON

President Says Congress Has No Right To Kill Treaties

STANDING PAT

Firm Attitude In Face Of Threat To Impeach

AVERTS REPRISAL

Trade War Threats Stilled By Act Of Executive

Washington, September 24.—President Wilson today announced that he refused to recognise the authority of Congress to direct him to terminate all parts of treaties with other countries which prevented the United States railways from giving preferential rates on American goods and on goods carried to the United States on American vessels.

The American Merchant Marine Act, better known as the Jones Act, passed by the last Congress, had directed the President to terminate those treaties which prevented its operation.

WILSON STANDS PAT

Washington, September 24.—A formal announcement has been made by the State Department that President Wilson has decided not to carry out the instructions he received from Congress to annul the existing commercial treaties between the United States and foreign countries, by virtue of which the United States is prevented from granting a special import tariff and special transportation rates on imports carried in American bottoms.

The announcement also stated that President Wilson had reached this decision September 5, before the expiration of the 90-day period in which, according to the Merchant Marine Act, known popularly as the Jones Act, steps were to be taken to abrogate the treaties.

The State Department announcement adds that President Wilson has not consulted any foreign governments regarding the matter.

WANTS WILSON IMPEACHED

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 28.—A telegram from New York states that Mr. George W. Edmonds, Republican Congressman for Philadelphia, is loudly demanding the impeachment of President Wilson as a result of the latter's refusal to enforce some of the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act and is calling a meeting of the Marine Fisheries Committee of Congress for the purpose.

MERCANTILE MEN EXCITED

New York, September 27.—Mercantile circles here are excited at the news that President Wilson has refused to annul the commercial treaties with foreign Powers, which prevent the enforcement of the Merchant Shipping Act, passed by Congress to facilitate the growth of the American Mercantile Marine by imposing a tax on goods, carried in foreign ships.

Some shippers vehemently denounce and others support the President's action while officials at Washington consider that a war of retaliation in shipping has certainly been averted.

Reaction Shown In Commodity Prices

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 27.—The newspapers are drawing attention to the reaction in commodity prices which is beginning to show itself in Great Britain and the United States.

The overproduction of certain commodities, for example, rubber, tea and cocoa, is being reflected not only in schemes for the restriction of the output of rubber and tea but in lower prices.

For example, multiple shop companies in Great Britain have reduced the retail prices of tea by 2d. to 4d. per pound. Coffee has been reduced from 2/4 to 2/- and cocoa from 2/2 to 1/8.

Still more textile companies in the United States have made further cuts in prices, ranging from 30 to 40 percent.

Jack Mason Gives Vivid Narrative On Nipponese Aggression In Siberia

Rotarians Hear N.E.A. Writer Who Investigated Incident In Nikolaievsk Described By Tokio As 'Horrible Japanese Massacre'

First hand information from an unprejudiced source in connection with what is called by Japanese as the Nikolaievsk massacre was given yesterday by Mr. Jack Mason, Far Eastern manager of the Newspaper Enterprise Association, at the weekly tiffin of the Rotary Club at the Astor House.

Mr. Mason's remarks were enthusiastically received and when the time was up for his speech he was urged to continue on with his graphic description of Japanese aggression in Siberia.

Mr. Mason left Shanghai for Japan in June. Public meetings were then being held throughout all Japan protesting against the massacre of Japanese in Nikolaievsk. Paid speakers were employed to tell the inhabitants of the "horrible wiping out of Japanese" in that city as well as the alleged firing of Chinese gunboats on Japanese.

Desirous to get the real facts about the incident, Mr. Mason arrived in Vladivostok on June 19. There were two routes that one could take from there to Nikolaievsk, a distance of 1,000 miles, (1) 500 miles by rail to Habarovsk and the balance by the Amur River. (2) an all sea trip.

MEETS OBSTACLES

The journalist took up the matter of passage with General Takanaki, aide to General Oi commander-in-chief of the Japanese troops in Vladivostok, and the latter informed him that no vessels were available.

Fortunately, the Russian Provincial Government in the port was sending up a Red Cross expedition taking with it $10,000 worth of clothing, medical supplies and other material, most of which was contributed by the American Red Cross. Although permission was given for the vessel to sail on July 2 it did not leave until July 8.

At Costries Bay, about 140 miles from Nikolaievsk, the ship was held up. Japanese boarded the vessel and searched it throughly.

The expedition reached Nikolaievsk on July 13. The town is 28 miles up the Amur, and was the richest town in Siberia North of Habarovsk.

The speaker found it difficult to ascertain the population of the city, because all public records had been destroyed. But from his personal investigation based on the number of houses, there could not have been more than 12,000 people. There were 4,000 Chinese civilians, 656 Japanese (who were lost) and about 7,000 Russians.

DESCRIBES SCENE

The estimate was made in accordance with the buildings, Mr. Mason said. There were eight blocks of buildings in width and 18 blocks in length, totalling about 2,000 buildings, of which only 17 stood intact after the incident. The blocks looked like "a burned over forest." There were still a number of refugees, but none of them were Chinese, who had been moved to Mago, 30 versts up the Amur.

The speaker then traced the events which led to the alleged massacre. Although the number of Japanese troops in Siberia during the Allied occupation was supposed to be about 6,000, through some "arithmetical error," as the Japanese Foreign Office put it, 12,000 arrived at the early stage of the occupation.

The sectors guarded by the Allied forces had the least trouble, Mr. Mason said, while those guarded by Japanese had the maximum disturbance. Japanese trouble increased with the time of occupation and their forces increased accordingly until 45,000 effectives were actually stationed in Siberia.

While Mr. Mason had no knowledge of the notes exchanged between the Allies and Japan concerning the occupation, there was a sharp and rapid reduction of Japanese previous to the incident and the number of effectives was reduced to 35,000.

As the principal garrison duty was along the railway, trouble was most frequent there. The Nipponese sent many units to places where trouble occurred and they naturally met with a great deal of resistance from the Russians.

OPEN BOMBARDMENT

Early last year, the Russian gunboats along the Amur were requisitioned by the Japanese authorities. With these boats, the Japanese fired upon every boat in sight and every building that they saw along the Amur, because a boat or a house they maintained might shelter some Bolsheviki.

Fifteen towns were terrorised said Mr. Mason, who claims to have concrete proofs to show that the destruction was accomplished at the hands of Japanese. Mr. Mason only described one, that of Ivanovka. Here the Japanese shelled the town for two hours, during which no less than 351 Russian orphans were killed. So unreasonable was the act of the offenders that the Japanese themselves called on their own authorities for an explanation. Mr. Mason is possessed of testimony to show how 14 other cities in the Amur Valley were terriorised and destroyed in similar manner by the Japanese.

Coming to the Nikolaievsk incident, the speaker said that on January 10, an army of Reds, in number about 3,000, came on skiis and snowshoes over the ice under the leadership of the arch-murderer and villian, Trapetzin. Mr. Mason attributed a great deal of this man's cruelty to his consort, Nina, who, he said, instigated various murderous plots.

The Japanese and white forces in town immediately burned the outlying houses in order to give no shelter to the approaching enemy. Here Trapetzin showed rare military knowledge. Instead of attacking the town, he went to an old fort built by the Czar and seized it after a short siege

STARTS SHELLING

With guns from this stronghold, the invading army started to shell the town on February 26. Three days later, the Japanese and white forces surrendered. Between February 29 and March 12, there were some obscure events according to Mr. Mason. There was no apparent reason for the "massacre" which took place on the later date. During this period, the speaker asserted, there must have been conferences over the terms of surrender and peace.

But for some reason not clear, on the morning of March 12, at 2 o'clock, the Japanese soldiers

New Premier Given Vote Of Confidence By French

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, September 26 (delayed).—The whole of the Chamber with the exception of the Socialists heartily applauded M. Leygues' Ministerial declaration.

An uproar was caused by the Socialist deputy, M. Brack, suggesting that M. Millerand had chosen the Ministers, which M. Leygues hotly repudiated.

The Socialist deputy, M. Berthon, inquired whether the Government intended to co-operate with Labor. He complained that many trade-unionists had been imprisoned for weeks and months without trial in order to break the strike for the nationalisation of transport.

M. Leygues declared that France would never forget Russia's immense service at the beginning of the war. France did not intend interference in Russia but material aid for the reconstruction of Poland was in accordance with French tradition.

The Premier asserted that the Chamber had approved by a large majority the previous Government's Labor policy. He appealed for union on the "home front."

The session closed with the vote of confidence.

FINANCIERS TO MEET

(Reuter's Service)

Brussels, Sept. 28.—The International Financial Conference has appointed a Committee to deal with the question of public finance, including Lord Chalmers (Great Britain), all the British Empire delegates, Herr Bergmann (Germany) and Mr. Boyden (United States).

I.C.S. HAS NEW HOME AND TECH LIBRARY HERE

IS OPEN TO PUBLIC

Invitations Are Extended To Techical Men To Make Use Of Reading Room

The China Agency of the International Correspondence School has secured its new headquarters at 83 Szechuen Road, a three storey building which has been thoroughly remodelled and equipped with modern conveniences.

A complete library of technical and industrial books open to the public is the special feature of the new home. It is located on the ground floor for the convenience of those who care to make use of the books.

LARGE LIBRARY

Included in this library are the volumes of the International Library of Technology—without exception the most complete technical reference work that has ever been published. These books have been compiled from material selected from 293 I.C.S special courses of correspondence training. They are easy to read, understand and apply in actual practice. They give practical technical data presented in such easy English that the most difficult subjects are readily understood.

In addition to this, there are other technical and business books by other publishers.

LONG ESTABLISHED

The China Agency has been established for over 15 years. It has a present roll of 1,500 students in China. It offers 293 technical and industrial courses to students and, in view of the growing number of Chinese as well as foreigners in this country seeking technical and industrial knowledge, the library has been installed.

The agency maintains a local staff of 35 persons and has a branch in Hongkong. Mr. A. N. Lethin is the general manager. Mr. A. R. Hager, the proprietor who has been touring the states for the last six months, is expected to return here in the middle of this month.

SOVIET OUTRAGE AGA'NST WOMEN TOLD BY OFFICER

Official Proclamation Of "Free Love Weeks" Is Reported

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 27.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at General Wrangel's headquarters relates a terrible story of Soviet atrocities at Odessa, brought by an officer of General Denikin's Army.

He said that with his wife and sister-in-law he escaped in a small open boat when he learned that it was the turn of these young women to be nationalised.

A number of their girl friends, the officer declared, had been seized and nationalised and afterwards sent to the Chinese lines.

The nationalisation of women was conducted systematically by Jewish Commissaries, while every month fixed weeks were officially proclaimed "free love weeks."

MOTHER OF SLACKER IS UNDER ARREST

(Reuter's Service)

Philadelphia, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Bergdoll and four alleged accomplices have been arrested on a charge of conspiracy to assist her son, Grover Edwin Bergdoll, the millionaire, to evade military service.

It will be remembered that Bergdoll escaped from his guards in his mother's house when he had been permitted by the authorities to visit her. He was subsequently rearrested and is now serving his sentence.

FAYOLLE HONORED

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 29.—The French steamer La Savoie, with General Fayolle on board has arrived at New York. The French General was welcomed by Lieutenant-General Bullard and a salute of 17 guns was fired in his honor.

Russians Make Protest Over Action Of China In Ordering Flag Down

Treaties With Former Government Must Stand Is Attitude Of People Of Disrupted Government

Vigorous protest against the action of the Chinese Government in withdrawing recognition from Russian consulates and the Russian Legation is expressed in a communication that has been addressed to the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs in Shanghai by Mr. George Synnerberg, who has been Commercial Attache of the Russian Consulate, and who writes as representative of The Society of Russian National Unification in China. The communication is as follows:

"His Excellency, "the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs.

"Shanghai

"The Society of Russian National Unification in Shanghai considers it to be its duty to respectfully beg Your Excellency to convey to the Chinese Government, that its reception of the Verdbne Udinsk Government Delegation, headed by a certain individual appearing under the assumed name of Yourin and who in fact is a delegate from the Soviet Government in Moscow, and its negotiations with him, as to the abolishment of the existing treaties between Russia and China, threaten to break the secular friendship of these countries.

"The Chinese Government is without doubt aware that Russia is at present passing through the most severe internal crisis she ever had in her history. She has not a Government which is lawfully recognised either by her own population, nor by the Foreign Powers, and, therefore, no particular group of persons is entitled to give in her name any promises, conclude treaties or abolish the existing obligations of Russia, more so, as the reception of such groups and their proposal, will as a natural result provoke protests of many similarly irresponsible bodies of opposite views and representing, perhaps, a larger number of adherents.

POSITION STATED

"The treaties with China have been concluded by a lawfully represented Russian Government, recognised both by her own people and all the Foreign Powers and must therefore remain in force until the term of their expiration or until their abolishment by mutual agreement between the recognised Russian Government and China. They cannot be abolished on the strength of any declarations of a group of irresponsible people, who are prepared to give away all the sovereign rights of Russia for the purposes of their party propaganda.

"The Society of Russian National Unification in Shanghai cannot refrain to express its opinion, that the intention of the Chinese Government to take advantage of the temporary embarssing situation of Russia and her present helplesness, in order to abolish the rights of Russian citizens in China and deprive them of the fruits of their labors, invested in the creation of Russian concessions in Tientsin and Hankow, in the construction of the Chinese Eastern Railway and to deprive them of their rights of extra-territoriality and the judicial powers of their Consular Courts thus equalising the position of the citizens of an allied country with those of subject of enemy powers; all this is a grave insult to Russia, which will never be forgotten by her and will possibly for a long time determine the course of future diplomatic relations between China and Russia.

DRAWS PARALLED

"The Society of Russian National Unification in Shanghai begs respectfully Your Excellency to draw the attention of the Government in Peking and particulary of the Waichiaopu to the fact, that at a time, when in the whole civilised world the Russian national tricolor flag is waving above the Russian Embassies, Legations and Consulates and whilst all the Governments of Europe and America are maintaining business relations with the Russian representatives legally accredited in 1917 by the recognised Russian Provisional Government, refusing at the same time to do any transactions with Bolshevik agents and their "Ambassadors," the Chinese Government is the only one which undertook to forcibly haul down the Russian national flag and to deprive Russia of its legal rights.

"Regenerated Russia will never forget that China was the only country which grasped the opportunity to exploit the temporary difficult situation of its friendly neighbor and ally, depriving Russia of her representation under the influence of a group of agitators, falsely stating that the Russian citizens in China aspire the abolishment of the existing Russian Consular bodies in China and are prepared to reconcile themselves to the loss of all their rights and priveleges.

CHINA IS WARNED

"Bearing in mind the historic friendship of Russia and China and sincerely desiring to preserve same in the future the Society of Russian National Unification in China warns the Chinese government against the results of the proposed measures and protesting most emphatically against same, will do all in its power to prevent the hauling dawn of the Russian flag on the Russian Consulates in China, which are the property of the Russian Nation and which protect the interests, rights and life of more than 300,000 Russian citizens in China, considering such a procedure as deeply offensive to the Russian national dignity.

"I remain, Sir, "Your obedient servant

"By order of the Committee of the Society of Russian National Unification in Shanghai.

"(Signed) George Synnerberg.

BRITISH SEAMAN DROWNED AS HIS SAMPAN CAPSIZES

James Godfield, seaman of the British gunboat Cricket, was drowned early Tuesday as a sampan, in which he was sailing, capsized near a passengers' pontoon. Three other sailors, his fellow passengers, were rescued. The authorities have recovered the body of the seaman.

League Of Nations Is To Probe Polish Situation

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 28.—The wearisome Polish and Lithuanian recriminations and charges of bad faith are continuing but the Poles now suggest that another "peace" meeting shall be held at Suwalki tomorrow.

Meanwhile Reuter's Paris correspondent states that an International Commission of Control has been appointed by the League of Nations to investigate the situation in Lithuania on the spot and is about to leave for Suwalki.

Capain Uenanaki will represent Japan on the Commission.

FOUR COMMISSIONS

New York, September 28.—A telegram from Riga to the Associated Press states that four separate commissions have been formed and are considering the details of the Russo-Polish armistice.

Warsaw, September 28.—The Bolsheviks are retreating along the entire northern front. The Poles have captured a further 1,300 prisoners and eight guns.

The Lithuanian Government has demanded the immediate withdrawal of the Polish troops behind the line, fixed in Dec., 1919. The Polish Foreign Minister replied proposing fresh negotiations at Suwalki.

CONTINUE ADVANCE

London, Sept. 28.—The Poles are continuing their advance to the east of Grodno and are approaching Vilna. The Bolsheviks are in full retreat but it is believed that large Red forces have been regrouping behind Minsk.

Meanwhile the Lithuanian Government, while still hoping for a peaceful settlement of the Polish situation, has issued a stirring appeal to the people to resist the invader with choppers, scythes and pitch-forks, if rifles are not available.

CASH OFFERED FOR HEADS OF TSEN AND WEN

Circulars distributed by air planes have appeared in Canton offering rewards for the capture of Tsen Chun-hsuan, Lu Yung-ting, Moh Yung-hsin, Wen Tsung-yao and Yang Wing-tai. The price offered for Tsen is $10,000, for Lu and Moh $8,000 each while for Wen and Yang, $6,000. The circular further added that half of the amount of the reward will be given for any of the "wanted" who is killed.

Following the appearance of the circulars, Tsen and Wen have taken refuge in Shameen. Wen has been seeking foreign protection and the Consular Body in Canton is negotiating with the victorious army for the safe conduct of the refugees.

JAPAN REFUSES TO CEDE CABLE RIGHTS TO U.S.

Nipponese Anticipate Claims To Be Presented At Conference

Tokio, September 26.—Japan will oppose the proposition for disposing of former German cables to be made by America in the International Communication Conference which will be held in the middle of October in Washington, D. C., according to the Nichi Nichi. Japan now controls three such lines, the Yap-Guam line, the Yap-Shanghai line and the Yap-Menado line, which are being operated by the Japanese navy.

The Nichi Nichi understands that the disposition of cable lines was left unsettled by the Peace Conference and was referred to the conference of five big powers. But it is a usurpation of power on the part of the International Communication Conference to try to pass any decision on the subject, says the Nichi Nichi.

OFFICIAL TALKS

A high official was interviewed by the Nichi Nichi. He stated that out of 13 cable lines held as security against payment of indemnity by Germany, Japan keeps three under her control by virtue of the privileges of trusteeship over the South Sea Islands.

"It is side-stepping to try to decide the question disposition of the cable lines in the International Communication Conference. But at present, the meaning of the American proposition is not clear, so that no definite stand has been decided upon on the part of Japan, that is no decision has been made to oppose the American move.

The Yap-Guam line measures about 600 miles reaching from Yap to the American Island of Guam. The second line runs several thousand miles from Yap to Shanghai. The third runs from Yap to the Dutch Island of Menado.

These cable lines are unique ones for communication in the South Sea regions. The last one was sunk by a company formed by Germany and Holland and the company was a semi-official concern. It was undertaken in pursuance to Germany's South Sea ambitions. Before the European war, it was used for purposes of war preparations. But now, after the war, the cable lines are to be used for peaceful commercial purposes, the newspaper says. With that object in view, the lines are now being operated.

"MUST BOW TO JAPAN"

"Suppose that the cable lines were taken away from Japan, in accordance with the American proposition, the South Sea Islands now held in custody by Japan will become economically useless. The meaning of trusteeship over the Islands will be lost. America may be intending to make such a proposition on the supposition that in communication with China and South Sea Islands America will be obliged to bow to Japan for permission to use the cable lines in question. But so long as Japan means to use the lines for peaceful commercial purposes, there is no need for worry about the future.

"As the diplomatic relations regarding trusteeship are very much complicated, the Foreign Office will send Mr. Shichida, consul eleven, to Track Island early next month."

SINN FEIN IN ATTACK CAUSE OF REPRISALS

Mallow Set On Fire When Invaders Are Disposed Of

LANCER KILLED

Sergeant Who Seeks To Check Invaders Is Slain

RENEW ACTIVITIES

Despite Pacific Stand Of Authorities Killing Goes On

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 29.—A Cork telegram states that the biggest coup that the Sinn Feiners have yet effected took place at Mallow (18 miles north of that city) yesterday, when a hundred armed men, conveyed in lorries, raided the military barracks there, at present occupied by the 17th Lancers.

Taking advantage of a time when the troopers were away from the barracks, exercising their horses, the raiders shot down at point-blank range a sergeant who challenged their entry, and he died soon afterwards.

A trooper, clad only in pants and a vest, and riding bareback, managed to evade the raiders and rode off for his comrades, but by the time they returned the Sinn Feiners had left.

CARRY OFF ARMS

They had failed in their endeavor to set fire to the barracks, but carried off all the war material in the place, comprising a Lewis gun, a large number of rifles and a considerable quantity of ammunition.

The affair has caused consternation in the neighboring town of Buttevant, where business is at a standstill and whence large number of residents have fled.

Later.—The reprisal which, in the light of recent events, it was anticipated would ensue upon the murder of a sergeant at Mallow Barracks, has followed swiftly, for this morning the town of Mallow (a place of some 5,000 inhabitants) was on fire in several places. The Town Hall, a creamery and steam mills were among the property destroyed, and the damage is estimated at many thousands of pounds. The fire brigade was unable to turn out, owing to the curfew order.

'BLACK AND TAN' POLICE

London, Sept. 28.—An outstanding feature of the Irish situation at present is the reprisals which are being carried out by the so-called "Black and Tan" Police—the nick-name given to the Royal Irish Constabulary recruits and the Auxiliary Division of the Royal Irish Constabulary, recruited for the purpose of instructing the Irish Constabulary in defense of barracks. The latter section are ex-officers, and together they number 500.

The nature of the reprisals, which swiftly follow Sinn Fein attacks on troops and police, is exemplified in the happenings in the town of Trim, in county Meath. Here the burning of the police barracks and the shooting of the head constable by Sinn Feiners was revenged by the "Black and Tans", practically wrecking the town. Two boys were shot and wounded, and the damage was estimated at £50,000.

PROTESTS ENTERED

The Liberal press is entering strong protests against these reprisals, and there has been much criticism of a statement attributed to General Sir Nevil Macready by an American interviewer, in which he apparently condoned these reprisals.

Sir Nevil is reported to have said that, "the machinery of the law having broken down, the Constabulary feel that there is no certain means of redress and punishment, and it is only human that they should act on their own initiative."

In this connection it is stated that the Cabinet certainly does not tolerate the reprisals, and the Dublin Castle authorities state that steps are being taken to deal with them effectively and expeditiously.

A big drapery store at Cork was wrecked yesterday by the explosion of a bomb, and similar bombs have been used in attacks on troops and police. A military patrol which proceeded to the spot where yesterday's explosion occurred was fired on, and returned the fire.

CHURCH FEEDS MAYOR

New York, Sept. 28.—According to a telegram from London to the Associated Press, the Yorkshire Post asserts that Lord Mayor McSweeney is being fed by orders of "dignitaries of the Church."

London, September 28.—The Daily Mail states that the Home Office has reliable information of the existence of a Sinn Fein plot in London. Some of the leaders are known and steps are being taken to checkmate any efforts to cause disturbance.

London, September 28.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, has sent the following telegram to the Pall Mall Gazette:

AGAINST REPRISALS

"There is no truth in the allegations that the Government are conniving at or supporting reprisals. The Government condemn reprisals, have issued orders condemning them and have taken steps to prevent them.

Nearly one hundred policemen have been brutally murdered, five recently in Clare by expanding bullets, resulting in horrible mutilation.

In spite of intolerable provocation the police forces maintain their discipline, are increasing in numbers and efficiency and command the support of every law-abiding citizen.

The number of the alleged reprisals is few and the damage done is exaggerated."

London, Sept. 28.—Scenes of disorder again occurred last night in Belfast but were promptly suppressed. The military made seventeen arrests.

The cause of the outbreak was an attack on shipyard workers in the Catholic quarter, which developed into a free fight between the rival factions in which stones and revolvers were used with the result that seven persons were injured, two of them seriously.

CROWDS SCATTERED

The crowds scattered when the military and an armored car arrived on the scene and all is quiet today.

It will be remembered that the Government recently suspended grants to administrative bodies in Ireland, which refused to submit their accounts to the Government auditors.

Today the Asylum Committee of Ballinasloe, presided over by the Lord Bishop of Clonfert, decided as a result of the Government's decision to disband as many as possible of the harmless inmates and to threaten to discharge all the homicidal and suicidal lunatics on October 10 unless the Government grant is renewed.

It has been ascertained that the Belfast police murders were deliberately arranged with a view to provoking further rioting in the city. The attacks were made at points a mile apart simultaneously, indicating that there was a prearrangement. The police in both cases were policemen.

HARDING PUT ON GRILL BY COX

(Reuter's Service)

Yankton, S. Dakota, September 28.—Governor Cox, in the course of a speech here today, referring to Senator Harding's statement last night at Baltimore that he had no constructive program with regard to an association of the nations, said that Senator Harding's message to Americans was: "You need not know where I am going but I ask you to follow me."

"The candidate for Senatorial oligarchy," Governor Cox continued, "pleads guilty on behalf of himself and his associates to the most stupendous conspiracy the world has ever seen.

His statement is a confession of the charges I made that his group has deliberately held up the peace of the world and outraged suffering civilisation for selfish, partisan purposes."

The speaker, replying to a question, said that he proposed to reorganise the Bureau of War Risk Insurance the first week he was in the White House.

Wheeling, W. Virginia, Sept. 28.—Senator Warren Harding in the course of a speech here today said that, if wages were to continue at their present rates, there must be 100 percent production.

Spend Million Yearly To Save Great Losses Forester Tells America

(Reuter's Service)

New London, N.H., August 24. (by mail).—Expenditure of $1,000,000 a year for the protection of American forests against the $30,000,000 a year fire lord was advocated here today by Mr. Charles Lathrop Pack, President of the American Forestry Association, in addressing a conference of foresters, timberland owners, paper, pulp men and lumbermen.

He also urged a $2,000,000 a year appropriation for the acquisition of forest land by the Government for the purpose of growing timber to replace "our rapidly disappearing supplies."

MANY FIRES

"Our mature forests are not only being wiped out by destructive conflagrations as well as by numerous small fires but these fires also prevent the natural reforestation of hundreds of thousand of acres of cut over land," Mr. Pack said.

"Our direct loss in timber by these fires is $30,000,000 a year. Altogether there are 315,000,000 acres of state and privately-owned forest land in the protection of which the Government should co-operate. At present half of this vast area is wholly unprotected and protection for the other half is entirely inadequate. Legislation authorising the Government to spend $1,000,000 annually in co-operation with the states for fire protection is immediately essential."

Mr. Edward Beck of Montreal, Secretary of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, told the conference that it was not true that the present shortage of printing paper in the United States was chargeable to the Canadian timber regulations but that it was due to world-wide conditions, aggravated by the "inordinate use of paper by both American and Canadian publishers."

WOOD PULP PROBLEM

He declares that free access to Canada's pulp wood would not give American publishers cheaper or more abundant paper, as had been claimed.

Mr. Beck asserted that the Canadian pulp-wood restrictions applied only to the Crown lands and not to privately-owned lands from which more than 1,000,000 cords of pulp-wood were annually exported to the United States.

In addition, he said, Canada exports nearly 600,000 tons of pulp and about 650,000 tons of paper to the United States every year, comprising approximately one-ninth of the American pulp the newsprint paper consumed in or exported from the United States.

Restrictions on the exports of pulp-wood from the Crown lands, he declared, were brought about solely by the desire to conserve the pulp-wood resources and utilise their products for the upbuilding of the pulp and paper industries within the Canadian provinces and with no intent to injure American industries.

CANADA'S NEED

Canada's great need today, said Mr. Beck, like that of the New England states was for the inauguration of a reforestation policy that would ensure a permanent supply of timber for the wood-consuming industries. Without it, he predicted the same fate for the Canadian pulp and paper industry that is now threatening the American. To open the Crown lands at this time to unrestricted exploitation, would only hasten such a condition and in the end benefit nobody.

Famine Threatens Worse Disaster Than World War

Today famine is abroad in China. In three provinces it is wide-spread—Shantung, Chihli and Honan—but unfortunately it is not confined to that area alone. In a lesser degree other provinces are also affected, and millions of people are faced with death by starvation. Other famines there have been in recent years, but it is doubtful whether any of the foreign residents in China can bring to mind a year in which conditions have been so bad as during the present.

The Great War, it has been estimated, was responsible for the killing of some 6,000,000 men, besides the maiming of many more. But if allowed to proceed unchecked, the present famine in the north of China is likely to inflict an infinitely greater disaster upon the world. An early estimate put the number who have been brought face to face with death at 20,000,000, but other reports have placed the number as being much higher. It is also suggested that to tackle the whole famine problem successfully $200,000,000 will be required.

TEMPORARY AID

It is not a case of merely tiding over people for a brief period, but on the contrary sustained effort will be required. And if these measures are to be successful they must be prompt as well as sustained. In the first place money is needed, and firms and individuals have given a lead by substantial subscriptions. It is necessary, however, to recognise that if the problem is to be dealt with successfully, the help of everybody is requisite, and every contribution possible must be secured. Given the money, it will be found possible to obtain the desired grain and other food from Manchuria and elsewhere.

From Shanghai it is hoped to obtain the most generous contributions towards the famine relief fund. The Chinese-Foreign Famine Relief Committee is already at work on the whole question, and within a few days it is hoped that there will be an announcement of the measures it is proposed to take. In the meantime the urgent necessity is for contributions to the fund which has been started. Four Honorary Treasurers have been appointed for the fund, and they will receive subscriptions from the public. They are as follows:

TREASURERS NAMED

Mr. Sung Han-chang,
Bank of China.
Mr. Fu Siao-en,
Commercial Bank of China.
Mr. William Morris,
British-American Tobacco Co.
Mr. G. H. Stitt,
Hongkong and Shanghai Bank.

The permanent headquarters of the Committee are at the old German Club, No. 22 the Bund, and here gifts of food and clothing will be gratefully received by one of the officials.

BOERS ARE LOYAL TO BRITISH FLAG

Men Who Fought Empire In Bitter War Now Take Pride In Nation

(Reuter's Service)

Bloemfontein, Sept. 27.—A congress representative of the Dutch South Africa, has been held here with the object of bringing about reunion between the Nationalists (who, under the leadership of General Hertzog, are in favor of secession from the Empire), and the Government party. This, like previous attempts towards the same end, has failed to achieve any rapprochement, owing to the Nationalists insisting on their program.

Nevertheless the striking and unexpected result of this remarkable congress has been to strengthen the feeling of trust between the loyal Dutch and the English section and to cement their friendship in closer bonds than ever before.

PROMISES KEPT.

It transpires that numbers of "backveld" Boers, who struggled against the British forces till the bitter end in the South African war, were those who were the strongest advocates against tearing up the Union's constitution, and they showed unswerving loyalty to the promises, made at the time that union was brought about, that they would bury the hatchet.

A typical utterance was that of one who was a "Cape rebel" in the Boer Republican forces. He declared that England had redeemed her pledges, so they should stand by the constitution, and, if anybody tried to pull down the British flag, his rifle would be raised in its defense.

LOYALTY PRAISED

The English section of the South African press refers in most eulogistic terms to the loyalty of these typical Boers, and expresses the opinion that their action at this conference will lead to closer co-operation and harmony between the two white races.

THREAT TO BURN CANTON SEEN IN ARMY'S ACTIVITY

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Sept. 28.—General Mu Yung-hsien has agreed to negotiate with Li Fook-lum and General Ngai Bong-ping with regard to the terms of his surrender. Meanwhile he is communicating with Generals Li Kan-yuan, Ma Chi, Lu Yung-ting and others, asking reinforcements and advice. Yang Wing-tai is siding with General Mu Yung-hsien and Admiral Lin Pao-yi is acting as mediator.

General Mu Yung-hsien has not yet surrendered the Tuchunship and he will not retire until he has assured the disposal of the Kwangsi and Yunnan troops in Kwangtung.

STORE PETRAL AND RICE

General Mu's subordinates are storing kerosene and rice in Canton apparently in preparation for a siege and also for setting fire to Canton unless General Mu's terms are complied with.

The situation is very unsettled and the public are prepared for trouble. The Kwangsi troops are fortifying the streets.

Li Fook-lum is controlling Honan which is peaceful.

General Mu Yung-hsien is awaiting reinforcements from the East and West Rivers. Li Fook-lum's men have damaged the Mongchuen-Kwoktong section of the Canton-Hankow Railway, thus preventing the Kwangsi forces from reaching Canton from Shiulwan.

Handy-Man Is Big Menace In Politics Says Leonard Wood

(Reuter's Service)

Cleveland, Sept. 28.—General Fayolle, General Leonard Wood, and Admiral Sir Lowther Grant were speakers at an assembly of the American Legion here today.

In the course of his address General Wood said that the greatest menace in politics was the handy-man. This man, he added, takes great sums in "fees" and must be watched at all times.

Chinese Collecting Taxes At Tientsin

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, Sept. 30.—The Chinese authorities have already started collecting taxes in the Russian concession. This has hitherto been one of the duties of the police. It is understood that the Chinese contend that, as Yang Yi-teh has taken over the policing of the Concession, the Chinese police must carry on this duty.

The Russian residents are perturbed, arguing that, if the municipal authorities are deprived of funds, the Russian Municipal Council must speedily cease to function.

Detective Sergeant Honored By Friends

H. J. Schmidt Presented With Gold Watch By His Colleagues

Detective Sergeant H. J. Schmidt, attached to Hongkew station, was presented with a gold watch and fob yesterday by his colleagues in the police department. The occasion was the impending departure of the officer for Australia where he will spend the seven months of his long leave. He is to sail on October 5.

The presentation was made by Detective Inspector J. Cruickshank in the presence of most of the members of the detective staff. The inspector told of the esteem in which Mr. Schmidt is held and the efficient work he did in the eight years service here.

Cotton Millowners' Hold Their Annual Meeting

The annual general meeting of the Cotton Millowners' Association of China was held at the offices of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd. yesterday.

Mr. C. W. Beswick presided and was supported by Messrs. L. M. Beytagh, J. M. Flynn, G. Okada, and J. R. McNicol, Hon. Sec.

The notice convening the meeting having been read, the chairman said:—

The report and statement of Accounts having been in your hands for some days, I will, with your permission, take them as read.

The only item in the Accounts that calls for any comment is the payment of $2,000 of our funds, which sum this Association has guaranteed for 3 years in conjunction with our friends, the Cotton Anti-Adulteration Association, for the improvement of cotton cultivation and experimental work under the auspices of the Nanking University. The expert in charge of this work, Mr. John B. Griffing, is with us this morning, and we are presently to have the pleasure of listening to his report upon their first year's work. It is unnecessary for me to comment upon the great importance of this work to all of us, as the matter will be referred to at the meeting of the Cotton Anti-Adulteration which follows this.

We were recently asked by the Shanghai Commissioner of Customs for an expression of this Association's opinion upon a petition that had been presented to the customs board in Peking by the Shanghai Cotton Industrial Association consisting of native dealers and cotton hongs asking for the abolition of the Shanghai Cotton Testing House, and the abolition of the moisture test on coastwise shipments of Chinese cotton. At a committee meeting held to discuss the matter it was unanimously decided to reply that we were most strongly opposed to the abolition of the testing house. As you are aware that organisation of the Cotton Anti-Adulteration Association, whilst being finacially self-supporting, has functioned under the auspices of the Chinese Maritime Customs, and the incalculable benefit that it has exerted upon the Cotton industry in China and for all concerned therein both native and foreign, is too obvious to need enlarging upon. We also recommended that the moisture test on coastwise shipments of Chinese raw cotton should be maintained, because the malpractice of watering cotton is admitted in the Chinese petition referred to, and in view of the great importance of the cotton industry in China—both from an agricultural and manufacturing point of view—any regulations that make for its encouragement and efficient control call for the wholehearted support of the Chinese Government.

During the past year there have been two welcome concessions by the Chinese Customs towards assisting the cotton industry. I refer to the abolition of the coast trade import duty of 17½ Haikwan candareens per picul on China raw cotton upon its arrival at one Chinese port from another Chinese port. It is unfortunate that they cannot also remove the Export Duty of 35 Haikwan candareens per picul on Chinese raw cottton shipped from one treaty port to another. Surely this cannot seriously be considered a bona fide export duty when levied on native grown cotton that is simply transferred from one place to another within the country's own confines, for purposes of manufacture.

The other concession granted is the exemption from duty when shipped to a foreign country of Chinese Factory Products enjoying single duty treatment. In view of the Chinese revenue council's expressed desire to assist industrial development, it is perhaps opportune to urge them to deal with this matter effectively once and for all, by abandoning inland taxation on native raw material employed in local manufactures, and abolishing all the excise dues on the local products.

To emphasise the growth of the cotton manufacturing industry in China, I may mention that we were recently asked to furnish figures to be embodied in the world statistics prepared by the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners and Weavers' Association in Manchester, and the returns made by China were as follows:

Active cotton spindles on July 31, 1920	1,280,036
Cotton consumed during 12 months, Chinese, ended July 31, 1920	637,779
Other cotton	52,619
	690,398*

*Bales of 500 lbs.

Cotton stocks at mills on July 31, 1920, Chinese	134,496
Other cottons ...	16,242
	150,738*

*Bales of 500 lbs.

I now beg to propose the adoption of the report and accounts.

This was seconded by Mr. J. M. Flynn and carried unanimously.

The chairman.—The next business,,Gentlemen; is the election of the committee, proposed by Mr. Beytagh and seconded by Mr. Okada.

Mr. Beytagh.—I have pleasure in moving the resolution that: Messrs. C. W. Beswick, E. C. Pearce, J. M. Flynn, G. Okada, K. Otani and C. C. Nieh be elected members of the committee.

Mr. Okada seconded and the resolution was carried unahimously.

The meeting then terminated.

One More Motor Cyclists Fined In Police Court

Two more motor cycle cases were heard in the British Police Court yesterday.

J. M. C. Lopes, 22 Range Road, was charged with riding without a rear number plate.

Two Chinese police constables said they saw cycle No. 2029 passing along Broadway without a rear number plate. It was driven by a Chinese and there was a Chinese in the side-car.

Defendant said his machine had no side-car attached.

The charge was dismissed, the Court expressing the hope that the driver of the other machine would be caught by the police.

A similar charge was preferred against W. A. Etterley, P.W.D., who admitted riding without a rear number plate but said he had committed no offense against condition 3 of his license, which was an exemption license.

Mr. King said the Police had evidently brought the case so that there could be no suspicion of favoritism being shown to S.M.C. employes.

A fine of $3 was imposed.

Dr. Griffith Thomas' Lecture "Why I Believe In Christ"

The second of the series of addresses been delivered at the Union Church by Dr. Griffith Thomas was heard last night. The subject was "Why I Believe in Christ," and the lecturer pointed out that Christianity is the only religion which is inextricably bound up with the person of its founder. A man could be a good Mohammedan, or Buddhist, or Confucionist without troubling in the least about these men, but no one can be a Christian without being closely and constantly concerned with Jesus Christ. This is the meaning of the old phrase "Christianity is Christ," and it makes the question "What think ye of Jesus?" the vital test of a man's relation to Christianity. Christ is the storm center of opposition today, and on this account it is important and essential to consider the grounds of belief in Him.

The first thing that stands out before readers of the Gospel is the personality of Christ. As personality is the highest thing in life, so Christ's person is the outstanding miracle, for there is in Him a perfect balance of qualities which cannot be found in anyone else. Then he is entirely free from sin, and there is no way of explaining this uniqueness apart from the fact that He is more than man and super human-Divine. As Bushnell said "The character of Jesus forbids His possible classification with men." Then the claim of Jesus Christ is unique. Not only did He claim to be the Master of men calling all to follow Him, but even more important, He said He was to be the Judge of all mankind, and He exercised the prerogatives of God. Bronson Alcott once said to Carlyle that he could use the words of Jesus "I and my father are one." "Yes," replied Carlyle, "but Jesus got the world to believe Him." This claim of Christ involves the great question that He is either God or He is not good. Christ as a man only would be unworthy of regard, because He said things about Himself that no mere man could possibly realise. And so there comes the old dilemma, "Either He is God or He is not good." A man once said, following Tolstoi, that he only accepted the Sermon on the Mount, and would not read any other part of the Bible. It was pointed out to him that if he was honest in accepting the Sermon on the Mount, it would involve the acceptance of Christ as his Judge, and this includes everything else. Needless to say, this was far from the man's idea or intention.

The teaching of Christ is equally unique, for, although their have been great teachers with splendid ideals and high ideals, the uniqueness of the teaching of Christ is the constant and inevitable association with himself. This is the unique feature in all the teaching of Christ, that it is impossible to realise it apart from himself.

The death of Jesus Christ is similarly unique, for of all the religions in the world, Christianity is the only one in which the founder dies as a criminal, in the eyes of the world and yet that death becomes the center of the religion. This is only possible when the death of Christ is considered as a sacrifice for sin.

To the same effect is the resurrection, for, in spite of nineteen centuries of acute examination, the resurrection stands today untouched by any and every criticism. The French cynic, Tallerand was once asked how a new religion could be commenced. "Oh," he said, "easy enough. Get yourself put to death and then rise again the third day." The resurrection stands the test of all examination, and as someone has said, "This is the rock from which the hammers of criticism have not been able to chip a single fragment.

Not least of all, the influence of Christ is unique. In the Christian Church everything has been due to him, and in the world there is no greater name today than his. He died on the cross of shame, and now he is a potent influence everywhere. The accomplishments of Christianity bear singular testimony to the wonderful effect of Jesus Christ on the world. All this gives point to the question "What think ye of Christ?" He cannot be ignored, though He may be opposed.

It is, therefore, the part of wisdom to test Christ and see whether His revelation of Himself is verified in personal experience. There are four calls in the Gospel which sum up life: "Come unto me;" "learn of me;" "follow me;" "abide in me." And the man who thus takes Christ as Savior, Teacher, Master and Life will soon know and be assured in his own spiritual experience that Christ satisfies and is all in all.

COMPLICATIONS IN COAL STRIKE

Conference Fails To Reach Agreement As To Wages For Workmen

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 28.—While it is believed that the coalowners and miners have reached a provisional agreement with regard to the new output basis of wages, the action of the South Welsh miners' executive has introduced a serious complication. The action means that the Welshmen insist upon the immediate grant of the 2/- increase in wages, demanded, before the out, basis is fixed. The Miners' Federation Executive, moreover, have decided to call a conference of the South Wales delegates tomorrow to consider the new situation. This points to possible separate ... action if the Welsh objections are not sustained by the Executive.

DELICATE POSITION

London, Sept. 28.—Contrary to hope and expectation, the joint conference of mine-owners and men has not arrived at the settlement of a datum-line today, despite the fact that there have been long sittings.

The official statement of the proceedings states that the discussion by way of exploring various aspects of the problem of output in relation to wages was continued and adjourned until tomorrow.

Much, therefore, depends on tomorrow's deliberations, as the meeting of miners' delegates will assemble on Thursday to consider the situation, and any settlement which may provisionally be reached.

AGREEMENT CONTINUED

The delicacy of the position is far from being relieved by the relativeness of some coal districts, especially South Wales, and the attitude in demanding an advance of 2s. a shift, irrespective of the basis of output, is tending to harden some of the leaders' feelings in the same regard. The leaders are now stating unequivocally that they are not going to ask Thursday's conference to withdraw the strike notices unless a formula is discovered which will yield this result.

Some, at any rate, of the mining interests are not strongly averse to the miners obtaining the advance for which they are seeking, provided the output is well safeguarded.

It may be added that the discussions continue to be conducted in a friendly spirit, and optimism prevails regarding the outcome of tomorrow's meeting.

Spinners To Take Places At Oldham

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 28.—In connection with the strike at 200 mills at Oldham, in which 30,000 spinners are affected, a joint meeting of the employers and officials of the operatives' union agreed to reopen the mills on October 5 on the terms of the staffing agreement, which the operatives repudiated when they went on strike on September 20.

The workers' leaders are recommending the members of the union to return to work and it is expected that the strikers will accept, if they are offered strike pay.

of the town gathered together and surrounded the building in which Trapetzin and his staff were staying. They drenched the building with gallons of oil and set fire to it by throwing hand grenades through the windows.

The Whites, however, diverted the Japanese long enough to enable Trapetzin to escape after receiving injuries in the heel and losing one of his staff officers. The enraged Red Chief came back with his forces and a fierce battle ensued. In the engagement a large number of Japanese, were killed. The survivors, 134 in number, were captured and thrown into jail.

Here Mr. Mason pointed out that the Chinese gunboats at Nikolaievsk, took no part in the incident. They did, however, take 4,000 Chinese and 700 Russians to Mago.

The Chinese Consul, Captain Chen, went so far as to plead with Trapetzin for the lives of the 134 Japanese captured, Mr. Mason said, and there is at present one American in Shanghai, not himself, who heard the pleading in the Consulate when Trapetzin called. Yet today the Chinese are accused of having participated in the massacre.

TOWN IS FIRED

Two days after the Chinese gunboats had removed the Chinese and other refugees, Trapetzin set fire to Nikolaievsk and executed the 134 Japanese. Mr. Mason styled the action of the Red archmurderer as an act of vengeance rather than a massacre. He considered that the action was prompted by the Japanese attempt to murder him and the officers of his staff by burning his headquarters with oil and hand grenades.

On June 2, the Japanese squadron relieved Nikolaievsk. It announced its arrival by firing on the Chinese gunboats, on board which were the 21 foreigners rescued from the Reds. The Chinese commander, Captain Mau, immediately sent up the sign that it was a neutral ship and the Japanese stopped after firing three shots. The range was easy and the distance, close, but none of the shots took effect.

Mr. Mason then told some of his experiences with the Japanese diplomatic representative, Mr. S. Hanaoka, in Nikolaievsk, who "speaks little and writes not at all." He refused to issue a pass for Mr. Mason to go to Mago and threatened to jail the Russian crew, which Mr. Mason hired, if they took the trip. Finally, Mr. Mason succeeded in employing five Giliak Indians and he proceeded without a pass to Mago where the Chinese gunboats were then being held prisoners by the Japanese.

The speaker had to end his narrative here as the speaking period had expired although many cries of "Go on; Take another hour!" were heard when he sat down.

CHICAGO BASEBALL PLAYERS CONFESS IN BRIBERY QUIZ

Cicotte And Jackson Admit They "Threw" Games To Cincinnati In 1919 World Series—Gamblers Paid $100,000

(U. S. Naval Radio)

Chicago, September 28.—Sensational almost to the point of incredibility is the testimony reported to have been given today by Eddie Cicotte, pitching "ace" of the local American League baseball team, before the Cook County Grand Jury investigating charges of alleged chicanery during the 1919 World's Series.

Cicotte is said to have testified that he deliberately "threw" the first and fourth games of the championship series to the Cincinnati Reds, at the instance of a clique of professional gamblers who had promised the White Sox players $100,000 if Cincinnati was permitted to win the series.

"I wasn't putting a thing on the ball," Cicotte is alleged to have testified regarding the first game, which Chicago lost by a score of 9-1. Cicotte was taken from the box after five runs had been scored off his delivery in one inning, the fifth. "I aimed it where the bat read 'trademark'"!

"In the fourth game, which I also lost," the disgraced pitcher is reported to have testified, "I deliberately intercepted a throw from the outfield that might have prevented a run. I purposely made two errors—one a muff and the other a wild throw." Chicago lost the fourth game by a 2-0 score, Cicotte being credited with the only two errors charged against his team.

Joe Jackson, White Sox outfielder, is reported to have told the Grand Jurors that, throughout the series, he moved out of place when Cincinnati's good hitters were batting, and when hits meant runs. Jackson is alleged to have testified that he received his share of the "spoils" from Claude Williams, premier left-handed Chicago pitcher, who also lost two games to Cincinnati.

KIDS FOR BRIBES

Jackson is also said to have declared that the Sox players, after the series was over and Cincinnati had won, first thought that they had been "double-crossed" by the gamblers; but that, later, they learned that Attell (believed to refer to Abe Attell, former featherweight boxing champion of the world) had outbid "Billy" Mahara, a Philadelphia fighter, for the privilege of bribing the White Sox.

At that, Attell is reported to have kept postponing the payment of the bribe-money, claiming that he and his associates needed it to conduct their various gambling enterprises. The report does not say whether or not the full sum was eventually paid.

CHICAGO'S DILEMMA

As a result of these lamentable disclosures so many of the White Sox players are either under suspicion or already suspended that there is doubt of the ability of the team to finish out the American League season, let alone participate in another world series in case it was able to beat Cleveland and New York out in the race for the League championship.

Colonels Jacob Ruppert and T. L. Huston, owners of the New York American League team, today telegraphed President Comiskey of the White Sox, tendering him the use of any or all the players on the New York team for the world series, in case Chicago wins.

(Editor's Note—This is taken to indicate that the Yankees are definitely out of the championship race.)

In this connection Dr. Abiner, secretary of the Chicago Club, stated today that the season would be played "if we have to use Chinamen!"

By Dudley Burrows

The above disclosures, if substantiated, will undoubtedly prove one of most tragic happenings in the history of American baseball.

Fortunately, it is understood that only a comparatively small number of players are involved in the scandal.

Rotters and blackguards are found in every line of professional endeavor. Major league baseball being a profession, it is to be expected that some crooks will from time to time find their way into it.

WILL SURVIVE SHOCK

But American baseball, founded as it is in like Gibraltar in the hearts of the American people, will weather this disaster. Means will be found to prevent recurrences of this sort of dastardism.

The game itself is too big and too fine to be assassinated by as miserable and conscienceless a band of rascals as these.

It is feared that the confessions of his players will have a regrettable effect on President Charles Comiskey, of the White Sox. It is sad indeed that the argent plume of "the noblest Roman of them all" should, perforce, be stained by some of the excrescences of this abscess which he so innocently permitted to form within his organisation.

STAND BY COMISKEY!

But, like the game itself, the name of Charles Comiskey is as invulnerable and irreproachable as that of Caesar's wife. For years it has stood for all that is clean and worthy and efficient in American baseball; and the American public will not desert him in the hour of his chagrin and sorrow.

So, after all, the only ones to suffer will be those who deserve to suffer; and for them no punishment short of execution can be too severe. As for the moneys they made out of their blackguardism, they are welcome to it.

We can even hope that they enjoyed at least a part of it; for they are likely to be sojourning, shortly, in an institution where spending money is of little or no account.

Let us hope that, too.

FRENCH VICTORY IN AERO RACE TEACHES LESSON

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 29.—Yesterday's contest for the Gordon Bennett Cup for International Aviation in which the best American, British and French pilots competed, resulted in a victory for the French airman, M. Sadi Lecointe, flying a 300 H.P. Nieuport aeroplane. He completed the 300-kilometer course in 1hr. 6mins. 28secs.

M. de Romanet, another French airman, had to make a forced landing and the remaining competitors could not complete the 400 kilometers.

The American airman, Mr. Schroeder, had to abandon the contest after a quarter of an hour's flight as flames were issuing from his exhaust and he feared that his machine would catch fire.

The result of the race is a splendid triumph for French aviation, to which the Gordon Bennett Cup is now secured. It shows not only the power of the French machines and the skill of the French pilots but also the perfect finish of French aeroplane construction.

Paris, September 28.—M. Sadi Lecointe established a new world's record in winning the Gordon Bennett Cup today, covering the course with an average speed of 170½ miles per hour.

In addition to the Cup, which is retained by France having been won for the third time, M. Lecointe gets a prize of Frs. 10,000, given by the Aero-Club of France.

Mr. Raynham was the only British competitor and his chances from the first were considered poor as he was flying an old-time machine.

NICHOLSON WILL DESIGN CANADA'S CHALLENGE BOAT

Builder Of 'Shamrock IV' Is Chosen To Plan And Construct 'Maple Leaf'

Montreal, September 20.—Charles E. Nicholson, designer of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV., has accepted a commission to design the Maple Leaf, proposed as Canada's challenger for the America's Cup by A. C. Ross, promoter of the Maple Leaf challenge.

In accepting the commission Nicholson was said to have stipulated that the preliminary work of building the yacht should be carried on in England. He proposed to complete the construction of the challenger in Canada.

In the cablegram sent to Mr. Nicholson by Mr. Ross, asking him if he would accept the commission to design a challenger for the America's Cup to represent Canada, Mr. Ross stipulated that the challenger would be a schooner yacht about 80 feet in length on the water line.

STUDIED U.S. CONDITIONS

Mr. Nicholson designed and built the Shamrock IV. for Sir Thomas Lipton and spent several months in this country prior to and during the recent America's Cup races. While here he made a close study of American-built yachts, including the Resolute and Vanitie, as well as of America's Cup conditions.

Prior to the races he said that were he to design and build another America's Cup challenger she would be quite a different vessel from the Shamrock IV., as a result of what he had learned, not only from American-built yachts, but as a result of lessons taught by the war, particularly in the field of aviation.

Mr. Nicholson designed and built the schooner yacht Margharita, which vanquished the Herreshoff-built schooner yacht Westward. The Westward, sailed by Charley Barr, swept the boards in British waters prior to the advent of the Nicholson creation.

:-: Tennis :-:

Although the third round of the singles championship for 1920, now in progress under the auspices of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association, will not be played until tomorrow, the city will not be without its court game for today.

Starting at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon, on the grounds of the Shanghai Cricket Club, the 1920 doubles finals of that organisation will be played, with Messrs. Ramsay and Shelton opposing Messrs. Norman and Dr. O'Hara for the honors.

Thanks to a decision of the committee, the public is cordially invited to attend the match, which promises much in the way of good tennis, providing the weather gods are good.

S.C.C. FINAL TODAY

Supplementary to the announcement in yesterday's China Press regarding the results of the second round of the 1920 singles championship, S.L.T.A., the following scores of unreported matches are now available:

Mr. H. H. Knowles defeated Mr. A. O. M. Forrest, 6-1, 7-5. Mr. V. Elliott defeated Mr. John A. Ely, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4. Mr. J. Tanaka defeated Mr. R. B. Nichols, 6-3, 6-1.

It will be recalled that The China Press reported that Mr. Knowles and Mr. Tanaka had won their matches, although the scores were not available. Mr. Tanaka will, therefore, oppose Mr. Elliott tomorrow.

All other details were contained in yesterday's issue of The China Press.

Babe Ruth's Home Runs 'Investigated'

Washington, September 21.—"Babe" Ruth and his home runs have been "investigated" by Uncle Sam and both have been given an official O. K.

Some of the friends of the champion home run hitter of all time decided some time ago that it might be that Ruth's home runs were due in some part to the different baseballs used this year in the major leagues, so they gathered up a number of baseballs the Yankee player had hit out of the parks and sent them to the Bureau of Standards here for investigation.

Those balls were put through a "third degree," if baseballs ever had such an experience. Scientists pounded, beat and dismembered them, and reported that there was nothing in them that would cause them to "ride" farther when hit than the baseballs heretofore used. In effect, the scientists said it was the "Babe's" mighty blows that produced his home runs.

SHANGHAI DEFEATS NAVY CRICKETERS IN HANKOW TRIAL

Eleven From H.M.S. "Hawkins" Is Easy Victim Of Local Team—Interport Match Begins This Afternoon

By "Forehand"

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Hankow, Sep. 30.—The Shanghai "Irrepressibles" who are here to play the Hankow cricketers a two-innings match on Friday and Saturday, yesterday defeated the eleven from H. B. M. ship Hawkins, flagship of the China Squadron, by seven wickets, after the sailors had declared for eight wickets, having scored 187.

The Shanghai batsmen wasted no time in vain repining over those 187 markers, but attacked the Navy bowlers with precision and despatch, scoring 193 runs with a loss of only three wickets. Thereupon stumps were drawn, partly because the light was beginning to fail, but principally because the Shanghai team did not want to waste its energy, which is being carefully conserved for the week-end conflict.

WODEHOUSE IS STAR

For the navy the bright particular star was Commander Wodehouse, who scored a brilliant 74 before being retired. For Shanghai Mr. W. C. G. Clifford (captain) drove out a magnificent 105, while Mr. A. E. Piercey accounted for 54 not out when stumps were drawn.

Hankow is all a-flutter over the two-innings match on Friday and Saturday, and dire threats have been made that revenge is to be had on Shanghai for defeating the Hawkins eleven. A record crowd is expected to assemble to see the match.

THE OLD ARGUMENT

Tomorrow, at the Race Course, the Married Men and Single Men of the Shanghai Cricket Club will clash in a match which promises to bristle with excitement.

Captain G. M. Billings, who is leading the Benedicts, has assembled a reckless crew of cricketers to uphold the sacred name of Matrimony, while Captain W. N. Hansell has chosen a positively piratical assemblage of wicket-wreckers to bowl and bat and field in honor of Bachelordom.

The match will begin at 1:15 o'clock, immediately following tiffin, which will be served in the Pavilion, beginning at 12:30 o'clock. The announced line-ups are as follows:

Married.—H. W. Allison, E. G. Barnes, G. M. Billings (Capt.), A. W. Hayward, W. J. Hawkings, H. Middleton, W. J. Monk, Dr. H. H. Morris, H. W. P. McMeekin, E. G. Norman, Dr. W. E. O'Hara.

Reserve.—J. Weeks.

Single.—C. Brook, W. N. Hansell (Capt.), J. R. Hinton, C. King, D. W. Leach, J. M. Pearson, J. A. Quayle, L. W. Roberts, C. E. M. Thomson, F. L. Wainwright, T. W. R. Wilson.

Reserves.—C. G. Fitzroy Lloyd, B. Lawrie-Smith, K. Tribe.

Cotton Anti-Adulteration Association Has Meeting

The ninth annual general meeting of the Cotton Anti-Adulteration Association of Shanghai was held at the offices of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd., yesterday.

In the absence of Mr. E. C. Pearce, Mr. C. W. Beswick presided and was supported by Messrs. L. M. Beytagh, J. M. Flynn, J. Spunt, G. Okada, J. R. McNicol, and others.

The notice convening the meeting having been read, the Chairman said:

The report and statement of accounts having been in your hands for the past week, I will, with your permission, take them as read.

The working account for the Testing House for the past year shows a loss of Tls. 16,415.95 from which is deducted the credit balance of Tls. 15,223.49 brought forward from the previous year, leaving a nett loss of Tls. 1,192.46 to be carried forward. The loss was due to the decrease of about 50 percent in the amount of cotton tested, as last season's crop was considerably smaller than that of the year before, and owing to the abnormally high exchange rates ruling, and the dislocation of the world's markets, there was very little export of cotton and the falling off in the quantity tested in this branch alone was no less than 576,591 piculs.

The amount of testing fees received was Tls. 22,250.01, being Tls. 32,239.84 below those of the previous year, and the proceeds from the sale of samples were correspondingly reduced.

I might mention that during the past year, our testing fee was reduced from 5 cents (Mex.) to 4 cents per picul.

Our investments stand in the books at Tls. 87,702.15 and their market value on the 31st July last was Tls. 72,625—this difference, however, is offset by the sum of Tls. 15,000 at credit of Investment Fluctuation Account.

Our salaries and wages show an increase of about Tls. 4,000, and we have also disbursed up to 31st July of this year Tls. 2,329.60 towards the cost of the cotton improvement and experimental work under the auspices of the Nanking University, that we have undertaken in conjunction with our friends, the Cotton Millowners' Association of China. I may mention that the amount guaranteed for the first year's work is $8,903—of which $2,000 is furnished by the Millowners' Association and the remainder by this Association. As stated by our Chairman last year—Mr. E. C. Pearce—in the absence of any effort by the Chinese Government towards assisting this important work, it was decided that it should be guaranteed by the two Associations for the first 3 years, and we hope that by that time this propaganda will have extended and have demonstrated to the Chinese farmers and cotton growers the over-whelming advantage to themselves of improving the quality and the yield. We have with us this morning the expert in charge of this work, Mr. John P. Griffing, and I will ask him presently to give us his preliminary report on the first year's operations.

We regret to learn from our friends, the Cotton Millowners' Association, that a petition had been presented to the Customs Board in Peking by the Shanghai Cotton Industrial Association which consists of native dealers and cotton hongs, asking for the abolition of the Cotton Testing House, and the abolition of the moisture test on coastwise shipments of Chinese raw cotton. Of the urgent necessity of establishing the Testing House there can be no question, and the beneficial effect that it has exerted upon the trade since its inception in 1911 has been incalculable.

The Millowners' Association have accordingly notified the Customs Authorities that they are firmly opposed to the abolition of the Testing House, and we should like to take this opportunity of urging the Chinese Government to adopt the strictest measures towards stamping out the pernicious system of watering cotton, practised by the Chinese farmers, which is such a severe handicap to the expansion of this most important industry.

We regret to record the death early this year of Mr. Macgregor who had been manager of the Testing House since it commenced operations, and it was largely due to his care and energy that we were able to establish and maintain its efficient service. Our thanks are due to the Chinese Customs authorities for the loan of his services, and for those of Mr Sutherland who has succeeded him in our employ, and also for their support and assistance at all times

I now propose that the report and statement of accounts be adopted and that the usual rate of interest be paid on subscribers' guarantee funds.

Hhis was seconded by Mr. Flynn and was carried unanimously.

A small amendment to the Articles of Association having been approved, the following committee was elected: Messrs. E. C. Pearce, C. W. Beswick, J. M. Flynn, K. Otani, Kojiro Ito, and J. Kobavashi manager is responsible for all matters pertaining to safety, sanitation and cleanliness of plant and factories; he is an important factor in the success of the scheme.

An address on the work at Nanking University was afterwards given by Mr. Griffing.

"This, in brief, is the plan which has now been in operation for about two years. Some statistics from the last annual report show to what extent the plan has succeeded.

"Reduction in all accidents, 340. Reduction in fatal accidents, 3. Reduction in time lost per accident, 2.18 days. Reduction in time lost per 100 employes, 106.08 days. Reduction in total lost time for the year, 6,798 days."

METAL WORKERS TO SHARE PLANTS WITH COMPANY OWNERS

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, September 28.—The Committee of Action of the Italian Metal-Workers' Federation announces that the ballot on the agreement, proposed by the Government, for joint control of industries by owners and workers, has resulted in a vote of 128,000 in favor and 44,530 against.

Consequently the Federation summons all workers to evacuate the factories and to resume work on October 4 at the latest. The workmen's committees will then formally return the factories to the manufacturers.

ABOUT BABY'S WEIGHT

Healthy babies should steadily increase in weight. When baby is not doing this there is something wrong, as was the case with the child of Mrs. Thomas Lawrence, a Canadian lady living at Collingwood, Ontario.

"My baby has been very delicate ever since she was three weeks old," writes Mrs. Lawrence. "She had indigestion, and although she had a ravenous appetite her food did not do her any good and she grew thinner and thinner. She would scream with the pain in her stomach, and as she was also troubled with constipation we were at times afraid we would lose her. I tried several medicines for her but they did no good. Then I tried Baby's Own Tablets, and her digestion improved. Now food does her good, and she is growing plump. I think the Tablets are a fine medicine for a child."

VALUE OF SAFETY SURVEYS

One Factory Reduced Its Accidents By 340 In A year

Industrial efficiency is more or less dependent upon the safety with which employes may work, and to this end many factories are now taking surveys of the causes of accidents in their establishments. These "safety first" surveys bring out many astonishing facts and enable the managements to do away with fully 75 percent of accidents. Export American Industries has gathered together data upon the results of many of these campaigns.

"One of the largest plants in the United States," says this publication, "in making a survey of accidents occurring in its shops, found that fully 80 percent of the accidents were due to carelessness, and could have been easily prevented through the exercise of a small degree of caution and care.

"Among other facts brought to light during the survey made in this particular plant were the following: The most careful age was found to be 37 years, while the ages showing the most accidents in proportion to the number of employes were between 22 and 26 and 50 years and over. The hour showing most accidents was from 9 to 10 a.m., and 50 percent of the accidents occur to new employes or those who have been less than six months in one position. Contrary to general belief, the foreign-born employes are quick in acquiring the safety habit if taught. More accidents occur in the hot season than in the cold, and the average woman on the same kind of work meets with an accident only one-third as frequently as the average man.

"With this data in hand, the company organised a safety plan consisting of a central Safety Committee of department heads who analysed the working conditions in the factories in regard to their effect on health and efficiency, studied the causes for accidents and recommended various means of preventing them. Local safety committees were then organised through which the recommendations were put into effect and employes were urged to report carelessness which they observed in other employes. Personal instructions were given to those in especially hazardous processes, while safeguards of a mechanical variety were installed wherever was thought necessary by experts who were called in as consultants. Wherever a machine could be stopped immediately by an electric button, the device was installed. Belt and gear guards of various sorts were put in, and later made a part of the machines themselves.

"Special courses of instruction were given to all new employes in which they were taught exactly how to handle their machines and what were the safest methods. The manager of the plant in most cases is the head of the safety organisation. The workman's safety committee consists of a Chairman and one employe from each general department. The manager is responsible for all matters pertaining to safety, sanitation and cleanliness of plant and factories; he is an important factor in the success of the scheme.

"This, in brief, is the plan which has now been in operation for about two years. Some statistics from the last annual report show to what extent the plan has succeeded.

"Reduction in all accidents, 340. Reduction in fatal accidents, 3. Reduction in time lost per accident, 2.18 days. Reduction in time lost per 100 employes, 106.08 days. Reduction in total lost time for the year, 6,798 days."

Special Notice To Mariners

No. 576.

China
Yangtsze River—Chinkiang District.

Pitman-King Crossing to be abandoned—New crossing to be opened to navigation.

NOTICE is hereby given that on or about the 10th October, 1920, the Pitman-King Crossing will be closed, the Spit Buoy and the Crossing Lightboat discontinued and a new crossing opened to navigation.

This new crossing, which will be known as the Cooper Bank Crossing, will be marked by the following aids to navigation:

A Light Beacon, exhibiting two White unclassed lights hoisted vertically and 6 feet apart, will be established on the south shore of the Pitman-King Channel in a position from which the Beacon on Kiushan Quoin will bear about S. 46° E., distant 1.7 miles. The beacon will be known as South Beacon.

A Lightboat, exhibiting a Seventh Order Fixed White Light, will be moored in about 23 feet of water on the southern side of the eastern entrance to the new crossing. From the lightboat the beacon on Kiushan Quoin will bear about S. 46° E., distant 3.34 miles. This lightboat will be known as Cooper Bank Crossing Lightboat.

The Big Tree Lightboat will be moved 1.84 miles N. 52° E., from its present position and will mark the fairway in the northern approach to the western entrance to the new crossing.

This new crossing should carry a least through depth of 21 feet at Low Water of Extraordinary Spring Tides.

Caution: Owing to the strong cross sets of the tides on the new crossing it will be necessary for navigators to proceed with caution.

All bearings given are magnetic and depths are those of low water of extraordinary spring tides.

WATCH FOR HIM!

Decide to be Strong

Don't surrender to a constant half-sick and half-well condition. Don't let indifferent health hold you back.

Lassitude, indifferent appetite, unrefreshing sleep, an "always-tired" feeling—these are some of the symptoms of a poison-clogged body due to blood poverty—anemia.

Vigoron rebuilds the health and restores vigor by enriching the blood with iron and with millions of powerful red blood cells. Blood like this clears out the poisons that have enervated you; then comes the natural return of good health.

War On War

In view of the crisis in Great Britain brought about by the demands of the British Mine Workers, and the Russo-Polish crisis, due to the meeting of the peace delegates at Riga, the following symposium of press opinion arranged by The Literary Digest of Aug. 28, will be found to be of special interest:

"A real League of Nations" was started by the representatives of British labor who met in London and proclaimed their intention to prevent war between Britain and Russia by "direct action," so one of the speakers declared. These "unlettered British workers," agrees the Providence News in this country, "are doing more to balance the world than all the accomplishments of the Allied Premiers since they first sat in the Court of Versailles. The grimy coal-bearer, the greasy railroad man, and the sweating transport-workers are forming a real League of Nations for peace." In the past, comments Labor (Washington, D. C.), there has been much talk "about labor taking direct action to prevent wars, but this is the first time that the thing has ever been undertaken in a way that promises direct results." This is the first time in history, writes Arthur S. Draper from London to the New York Tribune, "that a threat of direct action has been made in a political affair of such importance." A Socialist daily like the New York Call is naturally exultant over "this call of the workers across the barriers of frontiers and nationality." British labor decides on direct action against war, while, it continues, "the strike of the Italian seamen in New York against carrying Polish reserves to the Polish front is followed by a resolution of the Seattle Central Labor Council calling upon the American Federation of Labor to announce its policy regarding American interference in the Polish-Russian war." Attention is also called to the resolution adopted by the Chicago labor unions denouncing American action against Soviet Russia. Another Socialist paper, the Schenectady Citizen, notes that German workers have backed up their Government in refusing to help move troops or ammunition across Germany against Russia, and that "the workers of Czecho-Slovakia and Austria have done the same thing," and even "the trades-unions of France have held great protest meetings in Paris and passed resolutions refusing to transport troops or ammunition destined for Poland."

In Russia the All-Russian Central Council of Trades-Unions credits British labor with having "forced the hand of the Government" and sends a message to London declaring that the sympathy of British workers "will unite the workers of Great Britain and Russia into a strong fraternal union against which no intrigue of the international bourgeoisie can prevail." The New York Nation, noting such utterances and also noting reported refusals of workmen in Trieste and Danzig to help transport ammunition destined for Poland, comes to this conclusion: "The Allies' war to prolong war is no longer merely a war against the Russians; it bids fair to become a war against the workers of Europe."

Such are the hopes aroused in radical circles by the spectacular performance of British labor in espousing direct action against war with Russia and setting up a Council of Action to sit permanently as an executive body to carry out its program. But English opinion judging from the despatches and the editorials of the London dailies, seems to be quite unruffled. In the House of Commons, the Prime Minister held up labor's challenge to ridicule. Observing that the policy outlined by the labor leaders was precisely that of the Government, Mr. Lloyd George asserted that "this swing of the sledge-hammer at the open door" by labor could be intended "only for effect." Mr. Lloyd George also declared that any attempt to dictate the policy of the Government by industrial action would be resisted by all the forces at the Government's disposal. The Prime Minister's statements are echoed in the editorial columns of the London press. British press opinion, observes a correspondent of the New York Times, "recognises clearly that the principle of the thing is all wrong, but Englishmen are inherently loath to dwell on the principle of anything, and they can not help seeing the humor of labor's vehemently demanding what they already had." The labor conference, says the London Daily Mail, has been "battering at an open door." Mr. Garvin, of The Observer, denounces the Council of Action as "bombastic, hysterical, and ridiculous." Its members, he says, "know perfectly well that the Prime Minister and a vast majority of the nation are as thoroughly against war with Russia as they are. It is the nation's will and not their will that is going to settle this matter." The Daily Telegraph, which found the labor conference "rather a cheap display," observes:

"There will be, there can be, no new war unless the vital interests of this country are endangered. If that were to happen, which fortunately now seems improbable, the real influence of the Council of Action and the British clients of Bolshevism would be speedily and decisively tested."

But the delegates at the London conference were confident enough of their strength. "The show of determination was never more emphatic," says the New York Call's London correspondent. Now, asserted John R. Clynes, "we are able to force an open policy of diplomacy." Said another leader: "We will not have war with Russia and we will take whatever steps are necessary to prevent it." The resolutions adopted called for:

Full guaranties that British forces will not be used in support of Poland, General Wrangel, or any other military or naval effort against Soviet Russia;

The lifting of the blockade and withdrawal of all naval forces that may be used for a blockade;

The direct diplomatic recognition of the Soviet Government;

The delegates authorised their Council of Action to call for any and every form of withdrawal of labor which the circumstances may require to give effect to the foregoing policy, and they called upon "every trade-union official and the members in general to act swiftly and courageously to sweep away secret bargaining and diplomacy and to assure that the foreign policy of Britain may be in accord with the desires of the people for an end to war and interminable threats of war." Said J. H. Thomas, of the National Union of Railway Men:

"Desperate and dangerous as is our method, we believe that the disease is so dangerous and the situation so desperate that it is only dangerous and desperate methods that can prevent calamity. The resolutions do not mean that it is to be a mere 'down-tools' policy. If they are to be effective they mean a challenge to the whole constitution of this country."

And another speaker, Robert Williams, told the delegates:

"I tell you solemnly and seriously that you are infinitely more representative than the House of Commons, and you may be summoned to sit permanently as 'a committee of national safety.'

"I would rather act in an unconstitutional manner than go to war and go to hell under the forms of the British Constitution."

The Council of Action, writes a New York World correspondent from London, "is really what may be the beginning of a permanent executive Soviet of British labor," for he has "no doubt that the labor radicals will try hard to perpetuate this new temporary labor organisation after the present crisis is over."

British labor's action naturally pleases our Socialist editors. "That's something like it," applauds Victor Berger's Milwaukee Leader: "the big war could have been prevented if the workers of the various nations had taken such a stand in 1914—but they had not reached that stage of wisdom and solidarity." The act of the British labor delegates and the responses which have been evoked in other lands mark, in the opinion of the New York Call, "the disillusionment of millions of workers in all quarters of the world and the growing solidarity of the masses against the intrigues of the Imperialists. It is a workers' cordon sanitaire that is slowly rising in all parts of the world to block the sinister purposes of the unscrupulous victors. It is an inspiring thing and is surely shaping history and guiding events in a course little desired by Paris, London, and Washington."

A Socialist weekly, The Appeal to Reason (Girard, Kan.), concludes that "when moderate British labor-leaders who supported the British Government during the world-war talk revolution, the Bolsheviki" are "at the gates of London." The Cleveland Citizen, whose editor is the Farmer-Labor party's candidate for Vice-President, believes that the British trade-unionists' position "is undoubtedly approved by ninety per-cent of their fellow countrymen." Mr. Parley P. Christensen, the Labor party's Presidential candidate, has cabled his congratulations to the British Labor party, saying:

"British labor's magnificent determination to resist any form of military intervention against Soviet Russia is humanity's most striking victory over capitalist militarism. You have laid the foundation for a real world league of labor by setting the glorious example of labor's power to veto war."

"The eyes of labor throughout the world," says The New Majority, the Chicago Labor party organ, "are on the British Government to see if it dares fly in the face of this power, and the eyes of labor throughout the world are on the British labor movement to see if it will submit to being flouted by the Government as labor in the United States submitted in the case of the mine-workers and the railroad-workers." "Entire World Owes Gratitude to British Labor Movement," says the St. Louis Labor in a headline. And in the Minneapolis Labor Review we read:

"The British lion, roaring and ready to spring at the throat of Soviet Russia, felt a tug at its tail, looked around and found Bob Smillie and the British miners knotting its tail to the immovable pillar of a general strike, and the millions of other British workers applauding the performances.

"Then Imperial Britain decided it would not war on Soviet Russia for the very good reason that the workers would not permit it to. Without the support of the workers Britain realised its utter powerlessness to wage war, and for the time being the Government was transferred from the hands of government officials to those of the workers.

"It was British labor that determined the British policy toward Soviet Russia, just as labor in every nation can determine governmental policies by acting in concert. . . .

"Not only had British labor determined the policy of England toward Russia, but very probably the attitude of the world, despite the futile gesture of France to General Wrangel."

In sharp contrast to this congratulatory tone in our more radical labor papers is the attitude of American Federation of Labor officials who are reported in the daily press as saying that their organisation will not oppose any aid the United States Government might decide to extend to Poland. Representing the conservative wing of American labor, The Union (Indianapolis) declares that:

"The expression of sympathy for the Bolsheviki and the threat of a general strike indulged in by the British Labor Conference are bound to encourage radical activity in the United States, but it will not materially affect the conservative attitude of organised labor in this country. It is probably no more expressive of the sentiments of British workers than the resolution of the Chicago Federation of Labor is indicative of the sentiments of organised labor in this country."

This stand is naturally shared by many conservative dailies. The New York Times speaks for several of its contemporaries when, in an editorial entitled "British Labor 'Bluff,'" it says:

"If the labor magnificos had sworn to take direct action in case the Government put through Parliament a bill to dry up the English Channel, they would hardly be more absurd and thrasonical. . . .

"Immediately, the menace of the Council of Action's terrors looks merely ludicrous. If direct action on a national scale is ever seriously tried; if the union chiefs try to substitute unelected labor tyranny for constitutional government, they will hear from the British people, from the majority of workers."

To the New York Evening Post it likewise "looks as if this Council of Action were a work of supererogation, a violent and melodramatic current of English opinion." Its real significance, we read, "lies in the fact that under cover of the general unanimity, direct action has succeeded in crystallising in a wholly unconstitutional body." As the Boston New Bureau comments on the action of the British Labor Conference:

"It is tantamount to usurpation by the unions, as such, of the control of the country's policy. It is rank class domination, thoroughly undemocratic. This, the Premier asserted, would be thoroughly resisted. The Labor party does not yet run England by suffrage mandate. It has no right to dictate.

"In treading this path the English unions are heading toward the one thing which has made Bolshevism politically reprehensible to the world's democratic countries—the class despotism exercised by a small class minority."

British labor is ruling the Government by this veto power, the St. Louis Star observes, "just as the Russian Bolsheviki ruled the Kerensky Government before the Bolshevik revolution, by veto power over the acts of the Russian Army." Thus, the new British crisis "shifts the focus of the 'dictatorship of the proletariat' from Moscow to London." The threat against the British constitution "must in the end be conquered or government by and for the people will vanish from the ancient seat of Anglo-Saxon liberty," declares that New York Evening Sun.

Several editors attribute the stand of British labor, and also the objection to military aid for Poland voiced by labor in other countries, not to any spread of Bolshevism, but simply to "war-weariness" or "war-grouch." As the New York World puts it:

"In the present situation what ails the British workers is that they are thoroughly sick of war and are determined to oppose the reckless use of national armies in foreign adventures. They are weary of the waste and slaughter from which Europe has only just emerged, and with or without their assent they purpose that there shall be an end of it."

Do You Give Up Any Sunshine?

(New York American)

Men in the death house at Sing Sing, awaiting their turn to die, have evolved this plan:

They each give up fifteen minutes a day in the exercise ward so that the man who is next to go to the electric chair may have recess periods all to himself.

Thus he lives the last two or three days of his life in the open air and God's sunshine.

It is a very great sacrifice on the part of the men who give up their time. They are giving all they have to give. A few rays of sunshine and a narrow slit of blue sky are the most precious things left to these men about to die. The pity is they did not appreciate these gifts more before they took the road that leads to the room with the little door.

Out here in the free world many of us have sunshine, and to spare; the sunshine of comfort, the sunshine of love, the sunshine of contentment.

But on every side of us are others not so fortunate. They are imprisoned in the dungeons of poverty, and of sickness, or melancholia, or other distress mental and physical.

It would be a beautiful thing if we all followed the example of the men in the death house at Sing Sing and gave up a little of our material sunshine each day to some luckless fellow being.

Let it be the sunshine of assistance to the chap out of a job; the sunshine of a welcome to a lonely wanderer gone wrong. Let it be the sunshine of a cheerful word and a cheerful deed to those who sit in the darkness of discouragement born of misfortune.

Fifteen minutes of that sort of thing from each of us every day, and this would be a different world. It would be a better world. Maybe there wouldn't be so many men in the sinister death house at Sing Sing waiting their turn to die.

Unemployment In Germany

(From Vossische Zeitung Berlin)

Unemployment is extending to every field of industry. For several weeks nearly all the operatives in the shoe factories have been idle, though some establishments have been induced to resume under pressure from the government. Automobile manufacturers have curtailed operations and face a complete shut down. Even locomotive works are no longer fully employed and have shortened their hours of work. Machine shops and textile mills are discharging hands and shutting down. Similar reports are arriving from the Siegerland hardware makers. Reductions of staffs are taking place constantly in commercial houses.

SYMPATHY

A fairy prince there was
He had a feather light,
Touch whom he would with it
The heart would beat aright.
So with each one of us
No matter who he be,
He moulds his neighbor's heart
With the touch of sympathy.

IT LOOKS LIKE IT

G.R.S. Taylor, whose "Modern British Statesmen" Fisher Unwin will publish this month, has an interesting conviction which does not get into his book, that one of the present Cabinet is a little bit off the top.

Some of us think there is only one of them who isn't, and we are beginning to be doubtful about him.

Mrs. Asquith's style in her book of reminiscences is more mellow than the caustic stuff of earlier days. When it first got about that "Dodo" was Mrs. Asquith, Mr. Benson sent the future Premier's wife a note denying that she was the original of the vinegary lady in his novel. Mrs. Asquith wrote back: "Dear Mr. Benson—Have you really written a book? How amusing?"

MARY'S MAGNIFICENCE

"On the Professor's right was Mary Maroon. She had come in the magnificence which her present prosperity allowed. To grace her hat a bird of paradise had perished; to cover her shoulders foxes had vanished from the earth; for her feet, crocodile had died. Like a queen she had levied her tribute on all quarters of the globe, and like a queen she wore her gauds as though they were her scanty due. The women applauded her because she was a woman in a world of exclusive and narrow-minded men; the men applauded her because she was so obviously a woman in a world of frumps, about whose sex one might long be doubtful."

THE GREAT CITY

The place where a great city stands is not the place of stretched wharves, docks, manufactures, deposits of produce merely.

Not the place of ceaseless salute of new-comers, or the anchor-lifters of the departing.

Nor the place of the tallest and costliest buildings, or shops, selling goods from the rest of the earth.

Nor the place of the best libraries and schools, nor the place where money is plentiest.

But

Where the city stands that is beloved by these, and loves them in return and understands them,

Where no monuments exist to heroes but in the common words and deads,

Where thrift is in its place, and prudence is in its place,

Where the city of the faithfullest friends stands,

Where the city of the healthiest father stands,

Where the city of the best-bodied mothers stands,

There the great city stands.

WALT WHITMAN.

Minister Admits Errors In Japan's Past China Policy

Mr. Kumatoro Honda, Minister Plenipotentiary, concluding his serial on the China question article in the Gaiko Jiho (Revue Diplomatique), says:

"Japan's position in China is established on firmer foundations than is generally supposed. Japan has incurred sacrifices for the preservation of the territorial integrity of the latter and this together with the fact that China owes not a little to Japanese assistance, both material and moral, for the present degree of prosperity to which she has attention in recent years, should cement the relations between the two countries, if obstacles are not placed in the way of Sino-Japanese friendship by either of the parties. Moreover, the two peoples have been for two thousand years closely related with each other in point of culture and economics, besides being of the same race and language. These facts point to the necessity of co-operation of the two nations in all activities.

"Real friendship with China, therefore, is an impossible thing as long as we give the Chinese as a nation the impression that we are not interested in the general welfare of the Chinese, but are more concerned in creating a position in which we can advance our own interest. Yet such is the impression which we are creating on the Chinese by our present policy of setting one party against another in their domestic affairs. Japan's interests in China are not those of other nations. We are far more closely connected with China than European or American countries are, and the condition of China has an immediate bearing on the destiny of Japan. Again our relations with China are founded not on temporary interests, as the relations of other countries are, but are based on much deeper interests. But what is the policy which we have been following in China? There is grave doubt about the wisdom of those who shaped the policy of intermeddling with the Chinese affairs, since if they had realised that Japan and China are fated to work out their destiny hand in hand, they would have refrained from the method of assisting one political party against another, and would have taken such steps as would have contributed to the advancement of the general welfare of the Chinese people.

"Japan's Chinese policy has been in the past too much imbued with politics. This was unavoidable in the days when Russia constituted a menace to the safety of China and Japan for that matter. But conditions are now changed, and it is time that Japan shaped her Chinese policy to the end of bringing closer the economic relations between the two countries. In other words, all relations with China should be so reorganised as to increase the wellbeing of the peoples concerned.

"To conclude, the Japanese should have more sympathy with the aspirations of the Chinese. Instead of thinking of China in terms of politics, we should interest ourselves in the problem of how to contribute to raising the position of China among the nations of the world. The first thing which Japan should do is to encourage and assist China in her task of improving her position. All the hard experience which Japan underwent before gaining recognition as a Power, China is going through, and there is a chance of showing the Chinese how Japan is concerned in the wellbeing of their wellbeing."

The Ad And The Man

He saw an ad from day to day
And muttered: "I defy it;
Their stuff may be just what they say,
But I'm not going to buy it,"
As time wore on he made remarks
It would not do to mention,
For he was mad because that ad
Was forced on his attention.
But in a week, or two, or three,
He said: "There's no denying
The way that ad gets hold of me—
The stuff may be worth trying."
For just about a fortnight more
He dared mere words to win him,
And then the ad completely had
Aroused the spender in him.
Next day he drifted in a store
And quietly expended
A few big iron dollars for
The stuff the ad commended.
He found it filled a long felt need;
Its excellence surprised him.
And now he's glad because the ad
So deftly hypnotised him.

Labor Men And Parliament

(From the London Spectator)

The proceedings of the Labor Party's congresses are generally in sharp contrast to those of Parliament. In Parliament a great many wise things are said and innumerable stupid ones are done. In Labor Party congresses the exact opposite is the rule. The speaking is often of the wildest, most violent and most irresponsible kind, but when it comes to action, good sense prevails.

Little Bobbie's Pa

BY WILLIAM F. KIRK

My Pa was watching the sunset last nite wen I caim hoam from playing ball.

Bobbie, sed Pa, gaze at youder crimson Orb, sed Pa.

What is a Orb? I sed.

A Orb is that wich travels in a Orbit, sed Pa.

What is a Orbit? I sed.

A Orbit, sed Pa, is the track in which a Orb travels thru the starry hevings, sed Pa, & wen a man dies & goes to them starry hevings for to reside, sed Pa, they rite sumthing about him & call it a Orbit-uary.

I thot you toald me the other day that you wud not joak wen Bobbie asked you for informashun, sed Ma.

You cud hardly call that a joak, what I jest springed, sed Pa. The moar I think of it, the less I think of it. Orbit-uary, orbit, orbit, orbit-uary. Yes, that is a punk wheeze, sed Pa. I can & will do better.

Let us hoap so, sed Ma. Now be sensibul & tell Bobbie how the sun travels around the erth each day.

The sun has moar important dates than running around this littel erth, sed Pa. But onst a veer the erth travels around the sun, sed Pa, & as the sun is neerly a hundred milyun miles away from us, it will be seen that the erth is going sum to maik that jurney in a veer. There ain't any stops on that trip to take on water, sed Pa, not eeven in these Probishun times.

It is all very interesting & very grand, isent it? sed Ma.

It is, to be sure, sed Pa. Many things wich I cud tell you wud be jest as interesting & grand, sed Pa.

Beeyond a dout, sed Ma, yure hed is full of wunderful things, isent it. You are like the school teecher in the Deeserted Village, sed Ma, of wich Mistr Shakespeer sed & still the wunder grew That one small hed cud carry all he knew.

Mister Goldsmith sed that, not Shakespeer, sed Pa. Oliver Goldsmith. He was a grate poet.

Thare arent any Goldsmiths now, ser Pa.

Not eeven in a big city like New York? I sed.

No, sed Pa. That ain't no deserted village, sed Pa, only about ten milwun folks in one wiggling mass, sed Pa. But in all the ten milyun thare is no poet wich cud rite

Ill fares the land to hasten-ing ills a prey

Ware wealth accu-mu-laits & mep deecay.

This is the Incum Tax the world must pay!

That last line is pritty good Bobbie, sed Pa. I stuck that line on out of by own hed.

Pa is a brite girk, eeven if he ain't Mister Goldsmith.

Remarks On Neurasthenia

BY BRICE BELDEN, M.D.

It is commonly believed that Americans are inherently more liable to neurasthenia than other races. It is even spoken of as an "American disease," but it must not be forgotten that everybody in this country is classed as American, no matter what the racial origin.

As a matter of fact, there is nothing in the mere fact of being an American that predisposes one to nervous exhaustion. We actually know just which racial infusions furnish the greater number of neurasthenics, and they exhibit exactly the same peculiarities in other countries where they happen to be.

It is from the twentieth to the fiftieth year that one is most likely to develop this affection, I subjected to overwork (physical or mental) and prolonged and morbid emotional excitement like worry, anxiety, vexation and grief.

Contrary to popular supposition, neurasthenia is by no means confined to the wealthy. In the nervous department of the Boston City Hospital, for example, about 40 percent of the patients have been recorded as neurasthenics. This proportion seems to hold true in most other large city hospitals, and, of course, the majority of these sufferers are not wealthy.

Neurasthenia has been well defined as a condition of fatigue of the entire nervous system associated with morbid nervous irritability. There appears to be no organic basis for the disease so far as the nervous system is concerned, but it frequently seems to depend upon local infections, such as occur at the roots of the teeth, in the tonsils, etc. Of course, there is frequently an underlying predisposition which is hereditary.

Continual emotional unrest is a very big factor, or long continued strain of any kind. The inventor who works feverishly, and the broker who is forever engaged in exciting operations, are frequent victims.

Recovery is the rule, though this is not always complete.

A Dusty Worm

"Why don't you marry him?"

"He has such freakish ideas. Says he's a worm of the dust."

"But as long as he is a worm with the dust, what do you care?"

Cheap At The Price

"Look here, doctor, that bill you sent me was rather large."

"But think what I saved you by telling your wife she shouldn't go to the south of France this Winter."

The Rhyming Optimist

BY ALINE MICHAELIS

You have heard of irascible coves who had to be handled with gloves, who, with tempers uncertain were likely to hurt one, unless other folks acted like doves? Well, Dad was that kind of a chap; no one dared wake him up from his nap, all the family knew better than tease Dad's old setter unless they were primed for a scrap. In the heart of his own family he was glum as a mortal could be, and the kids would all scurry to leave in a hurry when they saw him approach his roof-tree. And when guests came, then how did Pa act? He performed just the same, for a fact, and he said people bored him, and oft Ma implored him to leave her poor callers intact. He would argue for hours upon end with Mother's or Sister's best friend. He never seemed happy unless he was scrappy when folks came out to spend the week-end. But at mealtime was Daddy a crank? We would like to be perfectly frank; but the truth is, Dad's speeches when meals were not eatables would have to be rendered "Blank-blank!" There was only one hour of the day when Dad would let up on the fray—when he met with a pal or a stranger at al, he put himself out to be gay.

Child Welfare Campaign Conducted At Hangchow

(China Press Correspondence)

Hangchow, September 27.—Under the joint auspices of the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., the Union Women's Evangelistic Committee, and a Mothers' Club connected with the Union Girls' School, Hangchow's first Child Welfare Campaign has just been conducted. The campaign continued for three days and centered in the new building of the Young Men's Christian Association. Each day's activities were divided into three parts. In the afternoon the physical examination of children under five years of age was going on in one part of the building while crowds of fathers and mothers thronged the rooms in another part of the building where the exhibit had been set up. At night moving pictures entitled "Better Babies" were shown on the roof garden and addresses on the care of children were given.

In the exhibit rooms numerous charts showed how to care for children and how not to care for them. Models and samples showed the kind of rooms children should sleep in and the kinds of clothes, toys, beds, and food with which they should be provided. Printed matter in abundance was distributed to the visitors, most of it health literature bearing the imprint of the Joint Council on Public Health from which much of the exhibit material had also been secured.

BABY CLOTHES ON SALE

Baby clothes were on sale as well as on exhibit and patterns for making rag dolls were distributed to those wishing them. A large number of volunteer workers recruited mostly from the Government Normal School, the Union Girls School and from the churches were on hand daily to explain the exhibits and answer questions. By permission of the committee in charge there were special exhibits of baby foods displayed by the Nestles Food Company and by the Allenbury Company, of toilet articles manufactured by a well known Chinese company, and of toys manufactured by the Commercial Press.

A large force of doctors was required to handle the physical examinations. It had been expected that only a few parents would care to have their babies examined and it was a gratifying surprise to those in charge to find the eagerness with which fathers and mothers brought their children to the examination room. More than one hundred and fifty were examined and the number was limited only by the time available. When the results of these examinations are tabulated they will be interesting not only to the parents concerned but also to physicians and others interested in the physical stamina of the Chinese as compared with other peoples where standards have been established.

ADMISSION LIMITED

Admission to the Baby Show was limited to those holding ticket so that the crowds who came were carefully selected. During the three days 2,100 visited the exhibit rooms and 2,200 attended the night meetings. The joint committee by which the campaign was promoted is being congratulated on the success of their enterprise and it is hoped the campaign may become an annual feature.

Yesterday afternoon in the China Inland Mission Church a mass meeting of the Christians of the City was held to commemorate the twentieth anniversary of the Boxer Outbreak and of the martyrs who paid the supreme price of their devotion at that time. Yesterday was the Mid Autumn Festival and this was the day set by the Empress Dowager twenty years ago for the massacre of all foreigners together with those Chinese who had identified themselves with the Christian church in this country. As a matter of fact the Boxers broke loose ahead of schedule time so that by this time in 1900 two hundred foreign missionaries and 5,000 Chinese had been killed and the movement had about spent its force.

Rev. W. H. Warren of the C. I. M. Bible School presided over the meeting and spoke impressively of the progress which the church in China has made since that mad attempt of the old Empress Dowager to stem the rising tide of modern civilisation. A large number of Christians from all the churches in Hangchow were in attendance.

MANY EXCURSIONISTS

Hangchow was thronged with Shanghai excursionists yesterday. The hotels had let all available rooms several weeks beforehand. Lin Yin Monastary, West Lake, and other historic spots of the city were visited. Today many of the excursionists are visiting Haining to see the Bore on their way back to Shanghai.

The third number of the Hangchow Community News, edited by Mrs. R. F. Fitch and Miss Joynt, is off the press. So abundant has proved the news and so cordial the welcome with which it is received it has been found necessary with this issue to enlarge the size of the publication; and instead of its original mimeographed form it appears this week in "sure enough" print. The paper will appear bi-weekly and a nominal subscription of $1.00 will be charged Hangchow residents and of one dollar and ten cents those who live outside of Hangchow.

SERIES OF LECTURES

Professor Yang Chien, dean of the Commercial Department of Nanking Teachers College, is delivering a series of lectures at the Chekiang Technical College on Scientific Management. In addition to the students of the College representatives of the We Dzen Silk Factory, the Hu Lin Silk Factory, and the Lu Lin Foundry are attending the lectures. A concerted effort is being made by these three large factories to put their work on an efficiency basis. In this effort the human factor is not being neglected and it is hoped the co-operation of the workmen may be enlisted. Later in the week the operatives of the factories will be invited to meetings on the roof garden of the Y.M.C.A. building where Mr. Yang will address them. There will be two meetings, one for men and one for the women operatives.

Today is the fifth anniversary of the We Dzen Silk Factory. The growth of this company has been phenomenal. Its business has grown with such rapidity that it has been impossible to keep up with the demands. Its looms have been steadily added to year by year and this year in response to urgent demands from certain foreign firms it has installed a number of looms designed to turn out fabrics suited to the foreign markets. In connection with the anniversary celebration today all employes who have been with the company for five years are being given certificates.

BONUS IS GIVEN

These certificates entitle their holders to a certain bonus as long as they stay with their present employes and in case of transfer to other factories in China it entitles them to the position and wage of first class artisans.

During the past few weeks the Y.M.C.A. has conducted a series of lectures on health in five of the largest factories in Hangchow. Seven doctors have volunteered their services and twenty one lectures in all have been given. The attendance has been fine. The spread and prevention of disease, home hygiene, flies, cholera, malaria, tuberculosis, and the mosquito have been the subjects presented.
